The room you live in, reimagined.

Roomly is an AI home design app. Snap a room, a facade or a garden, or upload a sketch, pick a style, and see that same space transformed.

The featuring brief

What it is	Home design for the space you already have: photograph a room, a facade or a garden, or upload a floor-plan sketch, and get that same space redesigned
Design modes	8: interior and exterior redesign, virtual staging, kitchen and bath remodel, empty the room, sketch to design, garden design, paint colour and floor change
Why feature it	Every result is checked against the original photo for windows, doors and room lines, and generated again if anything moved
Devices	iPhone and iPad; Android phones and tablets
Languages	The app is in 13 languages; the App Store pages, screenshots and this kit are in 14
Styles	103, across interiors, house exteriors and gardens
Business model	Free download. Creating designs requires Roomly Pro, a subscription.
Privacy	On iPhone and iPad, consent is asked before the first photo is sent. Photos are never sold or used to train AI models. Deleting the account removes everything.
Developer	Bridge Softwares, an independent studio

Roomly is a home design app for iPhone, iPad and Android, made by the independent studio Bridge Softwares. Users photograph a room, a facade or a garden, or upload a floor-plan sketch, and choose one of 103 styles; Roomly uses AI to return a redesign of that same space. It can also stage an empty room, clear a furnished one, remodel a kitchen or bathroom, and try a new paint colour or floor. Every result is checked against the original photo, comparing windows, doors and room lines, before it reaches the user. Roomly is free to download, with a Roomly Pro subscription for creating designs, and the app is available in 13 languages.
